

KICK-OFF FOR THE 7TH SUDDENRUSH BANKED SLALOM 2022

It's Banked Slalom time again in LAAX! 300 riders of all ages gather this weekend in LAAX for the 7th edition of the SuddenRush Banked Slalom. All of them have to master the challenging course with 23 banks as fast as possible. The action kicked off with the Master and Pro categories with a lot of well-known faces on the podium, among them Josh Dirksen (USA) and LAAX local Sina Candrian (SUI) as winners of the Pro category. Josh: "It's my first time at the Banked Slalom in LAAX. A smooth and well-built course. Fun but also intimidating. Awesome day and great organization!" On the second day it continues with the Open categories for men and women, traditionally the ones with the most participants, before the kids take over the course to show their skills.

The SuddenRush Banked Slalom LAAX stands for fun, friendship, open-mindedness – it's all about enjoying time together on the mountain on the one board which means the world to all of them.
